

I do not agree with the TSA on this new rule. I understand how we need to protect the US against unauthorized pilots. I personally am a non-US citizen who has been instructing for some time. I think it is unfair and unreasonable both for the new student and an instructor. I have not had any suspicious students yet. If I did, I would not hesitate to notify the local authorities. I definitely believe this new rule needs to be reworked